Summary

Full-Stack Developer & AI Engineer with 2.5+ years building intelligent systems that bridge automation and user experience. Currently building next-generation AI-enabled platforms and automations at Thundermkt.agency (1Touch Ventures Corp.) while developing an AI-powered platform set to launch soon.

My technical acumen starts from understanding human behavior in international sales calls & writing content on different niches to engineering machine intelligence - which gives me a unique perspective on building AI that actually solves real problems.

I specialize in building Generative AI applications with Large Language Models(LLMs) integration, RAG systems, LangChain orchestration, and multi-modal AI integrations across OpenAI, Claude, and Gemini APIs.

Recent focus: Designing autonomous workflows with n8n/Make.com, building production-ready dashboards with Next.js + FastAPI, and implementing vector databases that power intelligent search and recommendation systems. Previously delivered scalable solutions across fintech, ecommerce, and automation platforms.

I believe the best technology disappears into seamless experiences. Always building toward that vision.

Core Technologies: Python • TypeScript • Next.js • FastAPI • MERN • LangChain • RAG • Vector DBs • AWS/GCP • Docker • PostgreSQL • Selenium • Browser Automation
